The Cadillacs were all lined up in the driveway
Minks of many colors were on display
The caterer was the best that money can buy
It was David Cohen's bar mitzvah day
It was David Cohen's bar mitzvah day.

Uncle Abe flew in from Cincinnati
Aunt Becky drove up from Miami Beach
And the rabbi was watching with a tear in his eye As David Cohen read his bar mitzvah speech

I want to thank the rabbi, my mother and my father Today, I am a man by Jewish law
I accept all of my Jewish obligations
I acknowledge that there is only one G-d
I acknowledge that there is only one G-d

That was the last time David Cohen saw a rabbi
He's now a lawyer up in Sacramento Looking back it wasn't worth the cost
